U.S. Army Soldier Show Performs Here

The U.S. Army Soldier Show both rocks the house and moves audiences with outstanding talent and music. The free event, open to all Stuttgart community members, is scheduled to take place June 20, 7:30 p.m. at Patch Barracks Fitness Center. The 90-minute performance promises to entertain all ages and is a perfect way for a family to spend some quality time together.

The motto, mission and philosophy of the show were established during World War I by Irving Berlin. The first Army Soldier Show appeared on Broadway in 1918. The modern version of the show originated in 1983 as an outgrowth of several soldier shows existing in various Army commands with soldier talent selected from world wide competition. In 1998, the Army celebrated the 80th anniversary of the debut of the first Army Soldier Show in 1918 and the 15th anniversary of the modern Army Soldier Show.

Today, the U.S. Army Soldier Show tours the continental United States and one overseas command each year, alternating between Korea and Europe. The 1999 cast traveled more than 35,000 miles by bus and air, performing 120 shows at 63 locations in 24 states and Korea for audiences totaling more than 105,000. From the Arctic Circle to the Demilitarized Zone, these soldiers serve as ambassadors for the United States and the U.S. Army. The Soldier Show is not funded with taxpayer dollars, but with non-appropriated funds generated from business programs of morale, welfare and recreation and with corporate sponsorships.
